

Notes of a Conversation
With P.J. Raleigh
Re Arsenic Sales
November 23, 1978

Raleigh stated that Con would have to roast their material to get the gold out as it is presently tied up with pyrite. He felt we should be talking to Con on a spot basis rather than re taking over the whole pond.

The report on their material is about finished but requires a cyanide process test at Lakefield.

If we decide to go the market route ourselves, it will require a three-quarter million capital outlay for the loadout facilities at Giant and Enterprise plus three trucks at $50,000 each and six rail cars at $50 - 60,000 each.

PJR felt we should be considering sales direct to Georgia using Trimac as a carrier ie. a clean deal. Or Giant could own the vessels and have someone else supply tractors.

I suggested we might want to consider piggy-back from Hay River.
